WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION and EXPECTED LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Pre-workshop assessments

This workshop highly benefits from the Emotional Intelligence EQ 360 Leadership multi-rater assessment and the Cultural Intelligence CQ 360 Multi Rater assessment for the of individual leaders attending or as a group for team building and higher level of executive communication with a global leadership mindset. Each assessment comes with a full report for individual briefing and coaching purposes. If done with the whole group from one organization, it can lead to great results in terms of team performance and leverage of strategy. The assessments are all additional and optional.

workshop

Ethical and effective leadership has had a long history of research across different fields identifying over the centuries what made successful charismatic leaders. In this workshop, the trainer brings to the participants the latest skills that have been found to be influential in effective strategic leadership roles across contemporary organizations. The roles are introduced through complicated and highly challenging case studies and strategy based problems. Participants get to practice the introduced skills embedded in the folds of the workshop design to stimulate their strategic thinking, creativity and unleash their potential. They learn from each other and they are freed from the stress of their own organizational problems. Meanwhile they discover their high EQ and CQ abilities with forward looking development and action.
